Russia and United States Favor Early Withdrawal From Pekin.

NOTE SENT TO OTHER POWERS

Germany Will Not Be Permitted to Wage Ruthless War.

JAPAN'S SUSPICIOUS MOVE.

Protracted Sessions of the Cabinet Held at Washington.

Washington, Aug. 29.-Russia and the United States are to blaze the way for peace in China. How far their combined efforts will go toward ending the trubles in the Far East cannot now be told, but the administration appears canguine of favorable results. Both countries stand ready to withdraw their forces from Chinese territory as soon as order is restored there and a responsible government, willing and able to maintain quiet, is to be found. They are ready, too, to accept Li Hung Chang at this time as the Envoy Plenipotentiary on The part of China to negotiate for peace, but he must represent the Government really in power when the representatives of the allies appointed to negotiate for final cessation of hostilities meet. This is the situation here to-night, after seven hours' conference between President McKinley and the members of his Cabinet.

At the Cabinet meeting to-day a request from the Russian Government was laid be-fore the members, asking that the United States Government exert its influence to bring about peace and order in China, in which object, it was added, it would be aided in every reasonable way by Russia. This request was in the form of a memorandum left yesterday with Acting Secretary of State Adee by the Russian Charge d'Affaires, Mr. De Wollant.

At that interview, Mr. De Wollant, under instructions from his Emperor, stated that the purposes for which the Russian troops had been sent to Pekin-the rescue of their Minister to that capital and the protection of Russian subjects-had been accomplished, and that his Government stood ready to withdraw its forces from Pekin and, if conditions warranted it, from the

The proposition was discussed in all its

It was determined that as no other nation had made the straightforward and unequivocal evertures that Russia had, this Government should accept the proposition.

The question of how to proceed to bring the other Governments into line with the policy of America and Russia gave Cabinet much concern. It was finally de-cided to draw up a carefully worded note to the Powers, inviting their co-operation in restoring peace to China. At this time, when most of the nations, through their Admirals at Taku, have determined to in-terdict the Chinese Envoy Plenipotentiary Li Hung Chang, from communicating with his Government—an act of war in itself such a note, to prevent unpleasant results must be phrased with extreme nicety. Several rough drafts were made, but all had some feature that it was thought might be objectionable, and so were rejected. Finalceptable to all the members present was evolved, and this was decided upon as the note to be forwarded to the Powers. It is understood that the note was placed on the cable to-night.

This note set forth that the ends for which the aliled forces had been sent to China had been reached and that the troops of all the countries should be withdrawn at least from the capital. This was the main point, but it was delicately hinted that all acts tending to widen the breach between China and the Powers should be strike of 143,000 anthracite coal miners. The priest is the Reverend E. S. Phillips of St. Gabriel's Church in this city, a born son of the mines, with the interests of the miners deep at heart and at the same time with a breadth of view which enables him o recognize the rights of employer as well s employed

The strike was an assured thing until shortly before the adjournment sine die of the convention of the Mine Workers of America. The mine operators, without a single exception, ignored the invitation of his association, recently formed so far as this region is concerned. It has been the ustom of the anthracite coal operators to gnore the existence of organized labor whenever possible. The delegates to the convention from that territory had been affronted and were almost unanimously in favor of ordering an immediate strike.

Father Phillips had been watching the trend of events with close attention and last Sunday preached a strong permon against a strike. At that time he must have known that the operators would ignore the miners in any conference.

The priest, Tuesday, went down to Hazle Hall, where the Mine Workers of America were in session. A recess had been taken to allow the Scale Committee to complete When Usurers Learned He Was Got on Freight With Two Young lis report, and on that report the miners were going to strike until all the demands contained had been complied with, Father Phillips sought John Mitchell of indianapolis, president of the Mine Workers

Indiana Woman's Christian Temperance Union Sending Out "Chain Pledges."

M'KINLEY DEFEATED.

Their Fight on Him Is Based on His Refusal to Abolish the Army Canteen-Thousands in the Movement.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 29.-Mrs. Mary E. Balch, secretary of the Indiana Woman's Christian Temperance Union, began sending out the "presidential chain pledges" to-night, and in a short time thousands of the Christian women of the nation will be praying for the defeat of McKinley.

It was learned that the movement will not be confined to the members of the W. C. T. U., but that these pledges will be sent to the women of the country regardess of party. The pledge reads:

"Whereas, President William McKinley has shown that he prefers the favor of the llquor men of the nation to that of the millions of Christian people who petitioned him to blot out the canteen scourge in the army; therefore, I pledge myself as follows: "L I pledge myself that I will, until election day, make it a daily subject of prayer to my Heavenly Father that he will give to the United States a better man for President for the next four years-one who will keep wine off the White House table. who will be a total abstainer himself and who will do what he can to overthrow the "2. I furthermore pledge myself to make at least two copies of this letter, changing only the number at the bottom to the next in the State in which I reside and the other copy to some sister in some other State. Mrs. F. T. McWhirter, president of the Indiana W. C. T. U., in discussing the plan yesterday, said: "The scheme originated with a local chapter of the W. C. T. U., but I do not re-member what one it was. The women are against the re-election of McKinley for the reason that he turned a deaf ear to the petition agaist the army canteen law, which was signed by at least 500,000 Christian people of the United States. "Congress was opposed to the law, and voted it down, but President McKinley, after holding a consultation with his Attorney General, a man whom he appointed himself, said that it should stand. When one man can successfully rule over the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States, which are maintained at an enor-mous cost, I call it imperialism of the mous cost, I call it imperialism of the rankest sort, I think this one of the most flagrant of all his imperialistic rulings."

Mrs. Mary E. Balch, secretary of the Indiana W. C. T. U., said:

"I am responsible for the sending of these piedges, and I am doing it because I believe it is my duty. The piedges will be sent to women all over the country, and I believe the prayers will be answered. I believe the we will have a better man for President of the United States for the next four years than Mr. McKinley."

GRIEF DESTROYED REASON.

Incle of the Late Vice President Committed Suicide. REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, Aug. 29.-Grief over the death of his wife made William Winters of Kearny. N. J., an uncle of the late Vice Presient Garrett A. Hobart, crazy, and to-day he jumped out of a second-story window of his home. No. 26 Kearney avenue, fractur-ing his skull and lying almost instantly.

Mrs. Winters died on Monday after a week's illness. Winters was 76 years old. The bodies of the old couple were buried in one grave in Fairmount Cemetery this evening. They had no children and lived alone. Some of the friends of the deceased say that the old man's death was accidental, but as he had been acting strangely, it is generally believed that he was made insane by grief at the loss of his wife and jumped from the window. He was a veteran of the Civil War and had lived in Harrison and Kearny for twenty years.

HAMILTON IS McKINLEY'S GUIDE

Speaker Henderson Announces That the President Is a Disciple of Him Who Would Make This Government Like Great Britain's.

Confirms, in a Speech to Civil War Veterans at Chicago. Senator Vest's Statement of the Present Administration's Carefully Laid Plans.

Senator George Graham Vest of Missouri, speaking to a Republic staff correspondent at Sweet Springs, Mo., July 24, said:

"Our people must understand that this is the most important fight that has ever faced the party. There must be an awakening to the fact that the ery, 'Republic against Empire,' is not a mere campaign slogan. The phrase is alltruthful. Plans at Washington, very definitely laid out, mean to override the Constitution. The Republican leaders believe in the teachings of Alexander Hamilton, who said that the Government of Great Britain was the nearest a model of all the governments ever devised by the brain of man. The Hamilton idea lives at Washington to-day, McKinley and Hay believe in it. The secret plans of the Republican leaders are, 'A strong government, without constitutional limitations.' This is the fight. The lines are drawn. There can be no quibbling. It is the Constitutionof our fathers against imperialism." This interview appeared in The Republic of July 25.

Last night, in Chleago, at the Hamilton Club banquet to G. A. R. dignitaries, David Henderson, Speaker of the National House of Representatives, confirmed all that Senator Vest had said, boldly announcing:

"These doctrines of Hamilton must be the text word of the hour." Speaker Henderson said:

"Just before taking the train, night before last, to come to Chicago to have an all-around good time with my comrades of the Grand Army, I received a telegram from the president of this club, asking me to take the place of the President. I am not here for that purpose. No man in this Republic can take the place of President McKinley. And, gentlemen, when the ballots are counted in November, the patriotic and sensible people of this country will demonstrate to the world that no man will be permitted to take his place.

"The name of Hamilton suggests three thoughts that may be appropriate to 1900: first, a strong government; second, a just government; third, a protec-

"In this great world of ours, full of powerful, massive, aggressive governments, this nation as a government must be strong to take care of our people and their interests. No government can be strong that is not just. We cannot hold the love and support of our people unless we are just in the enactment, in the interpretation and in the execution of law. "This Government must protect capital and labor and give each a fair chance. It must protect the rich and the poor, the black and the white and the

"Unless we have a government big enough to extend its protective power everywhere that old flag floats, it will come short of its duty. Aye, and, gentlemen, it must be a government that will protect its citizens in the heart of Chieago or in the heart of China. "These doctrines of Hamilton, which I assume are supported by this club, must be the text word of the hour. I want elected a man who not only preached those doctrines, but, like McKinley, acted them from his heart, be cause I believe in those doctrines, and I urge the American people to support the men who believe in them.

"Therefore, I cry out to-night in the midst of this Republic, Elect at the next election William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt!" "

ALEXANDER HAMILTON'S DOCTRINE.

During the constitutional debate of 1787, Alexander Hamilton said: "I believe the British Government forms the best model the world ever produced; and such has been its progress in the minds of the many that the truth gradually gains ground. This Government has for its object public strength and public security. It is said with us to be unattainable. If it was once formed, it would maintain itself,"

The man went to the office of the superintendent of the cemetery about 9 o'clock and asked for the numbers of the lots where his wives were buried. The graves are in different sections. Half an hour later Watchman Jacob Keller noticed Baschek wandering about in the cemetery. Baschek said he had found his first wife's grave, but could not find that of the second. Keller found it for him and left him sitting on the grave. Women walking in the cemetery saw Baschek handling a revolver. They begged him not to shoot himself. He muttered something in reply and the women ran for help. Several workmen gathered, but Baschek threatened to shoot them if they came near him.

For many minutes the man continued to hold them at bay. Passers-by saw the excitement and swelled the crowd. Some of the cemetery attendants went for a policeman and a number of school children joined the frightened onlookers. The men, afraid to approach the old man, could not persuade him to put the revolver in his pocket. As they remonstrated from a safe distance, the old man grew more excited. With the revolver still in his grasp, he folded his hands and seemed to pray.
